Presidential Levees.

A W[illegible] of the [illegible] writes [illegible]

[illegible] ... W[illegible] H[illegible] ... only [illegible] ... Neither [illegible] ... Spanish Ministers [illegible] by their absence, with their [illegible] of the Cabinet and three-fourths of the Senate, it to be attributed rather to a disposition to avoid the promiscuous crowd which usually attends a first occasion of this kind, than anything else. There was an odd variety of costumes and characters among the guests which thronged the spacious halls, but the most perfect propriety and decorum prevailed, and I don't think the refined tastes of our most fastidious Senators would have been in the least degree shocked by the conduct of their democratic constituents. In President Fillmore's time, and subsequently, for aught I know, some regard to etiquette in dress was required at these Levees; and it was considered an evidence of the want of 'good breeding' not to affect a sort of Court attire. But Washington then was not as Washington now. 'The Yankees have taken possession,' is the phrase by which old residents characterize the change. The reign of Southern aristocratic pretension, and the fashionable leadership of Southern Senators, wives, have passed away. God knows it was time a change should come in this respect at least. The poisonous atmosphere of Washington society in times past, was of itself sufficient to generate nearly all the evils which have overtaken the country. The advent of a Republican Administration has wrought a new order of things. Washington aristocracy, or the thing which passes by that name, has been broken up. At the levee the other evening, the attempt at fashionable display was confined to a very few ancient dames and aspiring daughters. The true women of the land, married and single, are in their own cities knitting socks for the soldiers. Plainness of dress was the prevailing characteristic. General McClellan was the 'bright particular' of the occasion—appearing with his lady in the same room with the President and receiving the salutations of a dense crowd of friends, while around him were young subalterns in full military dress, gold epaulettes and all. The Commander-in-chief of an army of six hundred thousand men wore only his plain 'shoulder straps,' with the three stars, signifying a Lieutenant-General. President Lincoln looked careworn; and I was surprised to see in one whom I had heard described as an overflowing source of geniality and a marvel of good humor and repose, such evidences of mental fatigue and nervous disquietude. The latter appearance may have been only incident to the place and circumstances. But it cannot be doubted the tremendous burden of his official cares and responsibilities have added deep lines to a countenance tolerably expressive in the way of wrinkles before he assumed his present high position. Our President performs the hand-shaking part of his office at levees in a truly unaffected manner. He does not press your palm in feigned sincerity, but he gives your hand a flabby shake at the same time that he gently pulls you past him to make room for the next man. I thought the act insignificant, though it was a fitting illustration of the character of the man, in whom there is no hypocrisy nor deceit.

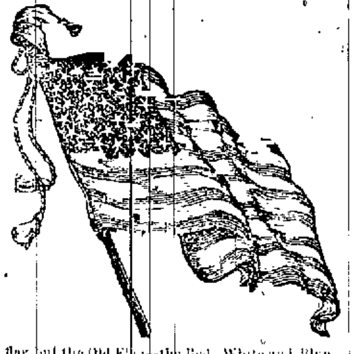
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.



No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it, ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

MONDAY MORNING, FEB. 24, 1862.

Union Resolutions in the Washington Territorial Legislature.

In a late paper we alluded to the fact that the following resolutions, introduced into the House of Representatives of Washington Territory, by Mr. Griswold, the member from Pacific county, were defeated by a party vote—and that the members who had done this, had impaled themselves on high as opposed to the principles and doctrines of those resolutions.

We again present them, that the reader may see the resolutions against which great bitterness has been and continues to be expressed, and especially now by an anonymous writer in the Times:

Resolved, That all sectional divisions can be better healed in the Union than out of it, and that all needless talk of dissolution of the Union are unsound and unwarranted.

Resolved, That the alacrity with which the masses of the people rush to the rescue of that Union, declares them worthy of their lineage and birthright, and is the most decided [illegible] the Union, [illegible].

Resolved, That the Union has become incorporated in our institutions, and our institutions with the Union, that the dissolution of the one would seriously endanger the permanence of the other.

Resolved, That Washington Territory, true to herself, and true to the government which protects her, will not be found wanting in devotion to the Union, or in loyalty to the Laws and Constitution, [illegible] of Mr. Lincoln's administration [illegible] maintaining the [illegible].

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to our Delegate in Congress, Wm. H. Wallace.

It is usual in Legislatures of States and Territories to express the opinions of their members by resolutions upon great questions of public interest; and especially was it desired that, at this time, the sentiments of the Legislature of Washington Territory should go before the country on the great questions of the day, that the nation should understand in what direction the sympathies of her people were directed in the present momentous struggle for the preservation of the Union and Government.

We invite the most critical examination of the resolutions in question to discover if there is aught in them of which any truly loyal citizen can complain. They were simply designed to give expression to the loyal sentiments of the people by the Legislature, whose prosperity, individually and collectively, essentially depend upon the protection and patronage of the National Government.

Was this wrong? Why then this violent opposition to these resolutions? Clearly because certain men did not thus choose to commit themselves and the people of the Territory to the principles and pledges embraced in them. These resolutions stand upon the records of the Territory, and there the names of many members of that body are recorded against them, and will be found there in all time to come.

We can readily account, at this time, for the desire of those who voted against them, to avoid the responsibility of their act; and the effort, by personal abuse, to raise an issue by which they can escape from the indignation of loyal citizens. Mr. Griswold may be a nephew or relative of the late editor of this paper. What of that? Does it render the views and principles enunciated in the defeated resolutions less just, sound, or patriotic? An attempt to seek such a subterfuge—to resort to scurrility and low abuse—to escape responsibility, evinces either great contempt for the good sense of the people, or a decided weakness in its author.

We are referred by the writer in the Times to the fact that the Legislature of the Territory passed an act assuming on the part of the Territory the payment of the war tax, amounting to some $7,700. That was very properly done. It will save to the Territory fifteen per cent. on this amount; and the measure could very properly be adopted without claiming for it great merit on the score of patriotism. It was a financial measure, and designed for the pecuniary benefit of the people of the Territory. But mark the facts: taxes are now collected on property in Washington Territory; the majority of the Legislature, in order to make the war tax unpopular with the people, desired to lay a poll tax for the purpose of reaching men without property.

We are aware that the bringing up of these matters before the people of Washington Territory is exceedingly distasteful and dissatisfactory to certain members of its late Legislature. We have seen the performance of one of them in the Times—[illegible]—and we have no doubt we shall [illegible] of just such performances [illegible]. But these will scarcely [illegible] from the position in which [illegible] the people of Washington Territory and the whole country.

The Vancouver Telegraph of Friday has a long article on the above matter. It says that the resolutions at first introduced were not as we have published them. That may be true; but they were voted down in the form we have presented them, as we understand by the Telegraph, [illegible] stated. The Telegraph [illegible] that its best means [illegible] of the matter with the least injury [illegible] to indulge in a free use of personalities [illegible] as they are unjust [illegible] are not disposed to follow.

A THRILLING PROPHECY—HOW [illegible] AND RAPIDLY IT IS BEING FULFILLED.—In last February, Alabama seceded! That brave old man, Senator Clemens, who had, until then, breasted all the storms of wild fanaticism, and clung to the flag of our Union, yielded to the popular clamor, and unsheathed his sword in a cause he hated, and one he knew could not succeed. He wrote the following to a friend:

"We are out; we have hauled down the Stars and Stripes, and abandoned the high privilege of calling ourselves American citizens. I am not ashamed to say that I could not restrain my tears when the old banner, which I have followed through so many dangers, was torn down and the flag of Alabama was raised in its place. I cannot restrain them now when I am writing; but the deed is done—a new era has dawned, and all that I can promise is that no effort shall be spared on my part to prevent it from becoming an era of disgrace. If we are not involved in a war we soon will be. There is no hope of peace; and he is little better than a madman who dreams of long exemption from invasion. I shall meet it when it comes as a soldier should, and fight through it as long as a hope remains. When everything is lost, as I fear it may be, unless wiser counsels shall prevail than those which have heretofore directed us, I shall drag my body to the nearest battle-field, and lay down a life which has lost its value."

How swiftly has his prediction been verified. Ere the echoes of his voice, pleading to the fanatics to "stop!" had died away, the cry ran out "to arms!" A State then prosperous is now bankrupt; all the horrors of war are upon them; business ruined, and in addition to the restless nights they pass for fear of a servile insurrection, they will wake some morning and hear the roar of Federal cannon at Mobile. The battle-field will be nearer to the home of Senator Clemens, and unless some unseen hand shields him, his prophecy will be fulfilled to the letter.

We have heard it suggested that a paper which is prohibited the use of the mails, can have its name changed and be circulated by mails as usual. That dodge won't succeed. The Day Book was ordered to be kept out of the mails. The editor started the Caucasian, and that paper fared no better. Any paper that steps into the track of the suppressed paper subjects itself to the same prohibition.

The late Eastern news gives unalloyed pleasure to the Union men. We regret to see some long countenances. Will not the children of secessionists, in after time, be mortified and humbled when told of the acts of their parents in these "times that try men's souls?" We wish we had an election now, that the names of men might be placed on record.

THE OREGON MIDSHIPMAN.—We believe Jeremiah Lampson, of Yamhill county (and whose respected father resides in that county) is the only representative that Oregon has in the navy. He was at the battle at Port Royal, and served in the Wabash frigate—which bore the brunt of the battle. Oregon will regard with interest the advance of this young man.

The Southern Confederacy has proposed to the European Government that if they will recognize their government, they will make free all negroes born after the recognition and free trade for fifty years. It seems the whole South are becoming the rankest kind of abolitionists.

We have heard it said that Express companies can carry papers excluded from the mails for their treasonable character. This is not so. Express companies, by such acts, would render themselves liable to prosecution.

European Intelligence.

HALIFAX, Feb. 10.—The Emperor's speech to the Corps Legislatif on the 27th was expected with great interest, under the belief that he would say something important on American affairs.

The dissatisfaction with Minister Fould's budget is apparently giving way.

The Paris Bourse, on the 27th ult., was [illegible]. Rentes [illegible] one-half per cent., closing at 70f. [illegible]

[illegible] principles.

A [illegible] from Mr. Seward to [illegible], the tone of which is very [illegible] to the European powers, in regard to [illegible] and always in the right, but [illegible].

PORTLAND, Feb. 11.—The steamship Jura has arrived from Liverpool with dates to Jan. 30th.

Breadstuffs were generally dull. Consols 92[illegible].

Mason and Slidell had arrived at Southampton. No demonstration was made. The former went to London—the latter to Paris. It was rumored that the Government had ordered the Nashville, rebel steamer, to quit Southampton [illegible] time for her departure owing to dangers from the Tuscarora, Federal steamer.

It was rumored that the Government will prohibit the armed ships of both parties from remaining over twenty-four hours in any British port.

Earl Russell, in a dispatch dated 21st of January, to Lord Lyons, says that the English Government differs entirely from Secretary Seward's conclusions on the question whether the persons taken from the Trent and their supposed dispatches were contraband.

It was rumored that an engagement had taken place between the Sumter and the Iroquois. No news as to the result is reported.

The Tuscarora was about to leave Southampton. Her destination was kept a secret.

The London Times calls for something decisive in America, and says that unpleasant complications must arise if the present state of affairs continues much longer.

The privateer Sumter is reported cruising off [illegible]. The U. S. Consul at Gibraltar has protested against the assistance afforded her. The authorities, however, considered themselves bound to give such aid as was indispensable. The Sumter having sprung a leak, was permitted to effect the necessary repairs at the arsenal.

The Minister of State has declared in Congress that Spain would demand reparation from Mexico on account of the war. He also stated that Spain had received no official communication respecting any further intentions of France or England, and concluded by saying that Spain would fittingly support her interests in Mexico.

The Constitutionel of Belgium says that Gen. Almonte was there negotiating to place the Archduke Maximilian, of Austria, on the Mexican throne.

PARIS, January 31.—The Moniteur says that the dismissal of Cameron gives England great satisfaction.

Napoleon opened the French chambers on the 27th. He said that the civil war which desolates America has greatly compromised our commercial interests. So long, however, as the rights of neutrals are respected, we must confine ourselves to expressing wishes for an early termination of these dissensions."

MADRID, January 30.—O'Donnell declares that France has made no separate engagement with Spain. The Spanish Government has no reason to suppose that France intends settling the affairs of Mexico, without considering the wishes of other Powers.

A telegram from Lisbon announces further satisfactory news from Buenos Ayres. [illegible] fleet had surrendered to Buenos Ayreans.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—An interesting and exciting debate is expected, soon after the opening of Parliament, on Gregory's proposition to recognize the Southern Confederacy.

REBEL VOLUNTEER SYSTEM.—The rebel volunteer system has proved a failure. Many regiments whose time is nearly up look forward with anxiety for the expiration of their service. The Richmond Examiner regards this fact with apprehension. That journal strongly advocates the adoption of measures not to allow these rebel volunteers to return home, but recommends that a compelling system be adopted: that is, to make the rebel soldiers remain in service. Nice fellows.

KENTUCKY.—A bill has been introduced in the Kentucky Legislature requiring all voters to take the oath of allegiance to the United States and subordinate allegiance to the State of Kentucky, and they must also swear that they have not aided in any way the so-called Southern Confederacy.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

[illegible] Mr. Jones, [illegible] this morning [illegible] Dalles, Walla Walla [illegible] over land trail.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamer Brother Jonathan is advertised to sail for San Francisco via Victoria this forenoon.

LETTER MAIL.—The letter mail for San Francisco and [illegible] Atlantic States will close at ten o'clock this morning.

No letter mail was brought by the last steamer from San Francisco.

The warm weather yesterday made a very sensible impression on the snow and ice.

MAX IRWIN.—T[illegible] had a benefit on Saturday night, and he was greeted with [illegible] house. [illegible] songs, dances, and witty sayings were well received. Max has few equals anywhere. The performances [illegible] will be continued this week, we understand.

NEW RESTAURANT.—Wm. B. Taylor has opened a restaurant and lodging house in the old Oregonian office, corner Morrison and First streets. His beds are fine, and his tables will be loaded with good and substantial food. An excellent eating house is here offered to the miner.

Mr. Sylvester Pennoyer, of this city, has considered it necessary to disclaim the writing of editorials for the Advertiser, in a communication in that paper. This he has emphatically done. He could not, with a proper regard for his reputation, do less. While, however, he has done this, he does not say that he is not in the practice of writing communications for the Advertiser. The communications which have been published in that paper have teemed with treasonable sentiments, quite as much as its editorials. It was in a communication in that paper in which "God was invoked to paralyze the arms of the nation," in its present struggle for existence. Mr. Pennoyer cannot probably extend his disavowal to many of the pestiferous productions which have appeared in the Advertiser. If he can, we shall be glad to see it done. It would relieve him from inferences which are likely to be drawn from his late disclaimer. We have heard the thing mooted that the article of poetry which appeared in the Oregon Democrat some time since, and which characterized the Federal troops as "the enemy," and huzzaed for "Beauregard and Davis—the glory of the land," was the production of a poet of our city. The author of that article will never acknowledge it. We are sure of that.

The following instructions were issued by Secretary Chase at the urgent solicitations of Senator Nesmith, a copy of which was sent to Messrs. Tracy & Co., in this city, by Amory Holbrook, now at Washington. It will no doubt interest many of our readers:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Dec. 26th, 1861.

Sir: I invite your attention to the following instructions in relation to the issue of bonds in payment of Oregon and Washington Indian war claims under act of 24 March last: For all claims reported by the Third Auditor as having been filed in his office prior to the first day of January proximo, interest coupons will be attached to them commencing on the 1st of July last. For claims reported to have been filed after the 1st of January proximo and prior to the 1st of July, interest coupons will be attached commencing on the 1st of January, and so on thereafter until all are paid; the interest beginning to run at the semi-annual period immediately preceding the filing of claims. The Third Auditor will endorse the date of the filing of the claims, on the requisition as they pass through his office.

Very resp'y, your ob't serv't,
S. P. CHASE,
Sec'y Treasury.

Hon. L. E. Chittenden, Register Treasury.

SIBERIAN TELEGRAPH.—Mr. Sargent, member of Congress from California, has introduced a bill appropriating $50,000 for a survey for the northern routes of the Pacific Ocean and Behring Straits to the mouth of the Amoor river and the Russian American Possessions, with a view to telegraphic facilities.

KOSSUTH.—Letters from Italy convey the painful intelligence that Kossuth is alarmingly ill. His disease appears to be a kind of consumption—a disease which has thus far baffled the efforts of his physicians to arrest it. He is so reduced as to be able to converse with difficulty, and his friends fear he will not survive the winter.

Agency Notice.—Mr. L. P. FISHER is our only authorized Agent in San Francisco to receive advertisements, and transact business for the DAILY and WEEKLY OREGONIAN. Office—No. 577½ Washington street, nearly opposite Maguire's Opera House.

SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make a TIGHT LOCK-STITCH, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk, directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle; curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather; and always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, commencing sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to soil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, nor ravel.

The undersigned are General Agents for the general delivery of these unrivalled machines for Pacific States and Western Coast of Mexico.

Love in a Cottage.

They may talk of love in a cottage,
And bowers of trellised vine—
Of nature bewitchingly simple,
And milkmaids half divine,
They may talk of the pleasure of sleeping
In the shade of a spreading tree,
And a walk in the fields at morning,
By the side of a footstep free.

But give me a sly flirtation,

—N. P. Willis.

THE DIVINE RIGHT.—William III. the new King of Prussia had the old legitimacy of the divine right of Kings, evidently. Before his coronation he called the Diet together and make the following speech, which reads like "sarcasm" from this ultra republican stand point:

I desire to summon the representatives of the Chambers to my presence even before the coronation, and I thank you for having complied with my wish. The rulers of Prussia receive their crown from God; to-morrow, therefore I shall take the crown from the Lord's table and place it on my head; this is the signification of the expression, "King by the grace of God;" and therein lies the sanctity of the crown, which is inviolable. I know you will understand the meaning of the act which I have summoned you to witness.—The crown has been surrounded by new institutions, by virtue of which you are destined to afford it the benefit of your counsel. You will advise me, and I shall listen to your advice.

Previous to the attack on Sumter, the notorious dirt eater of Ohio made a boast that the first regiment that left Ohio to fight the South, would have to march over his dead body. It so happened that the First Ohio regiment went from his district, and marched passed his house. When close upon it the regiment halted, and the Colonel said: "You are now to pass the dead body of Vallandigham; let every man hold his—nose," which they did till all had passed.

"Hellow, Sharp!" said Pop, meeting him the other day in the street, "you hobble, my boy; what's the matter with you?"

"Oh, I had my feet crushed through the carelessness of a conductor, the other day between railroad cars—that's all."

"And don't you mean to sue them for damages?"

"Damages? Poh! no. Guess I've had damage enough. Hadn't I rather sue for repairs?"

FISHING FOR THE WELL.—Brastow, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger, coming from Shasta to Red Bluff during the time of high water last week, saw a woman on Cottonwood wading about in three feet of water with a tin bucket in one hand and a long pole in the other, making sundry pokes, with the pole aforesaid, in the water on the right and left and front, as she waded along. On inquiry what she was about, she informed our indomitable expressman, that "the children in the house were crying for water, and that she was out hunting for the well!" To the incredulous, we would say, Brastow is willing to file an affidavit to the truthfulness of the above, deducting only six inches in the depth of the water.—Red Bluff Independent.

A plucky little British middy recently slapped the august ears of his royal highness Prince Alfred, who thereupon indignantly reported to the officer in command.—Investigation showed that the indignity was the result of princely impertinence, and all the satisfaction which his highness got, therefore, was a piece of advice to the effect that in future he had better keep a civil tongue in his head.

"Dad, if I was to see a duck on the wing and was to shoot it, would you lick me?" O, no, my son; it shows you are a good marksman, and I would feel proud of you." "Well, then, I plumpt our old drake as he was flyin over the fence to-day, and it would have done you good to see him drap.

A chap calling himself Reuben Hill, recommends a quack nostrum, known as "Dyspeptic Cordial," which, he says, cured himself of rheumatism, his wife of the sick headache, his daughter of the fever and ague, and his mother of a bad cough, besides mending the cellar stairs, and putting the baby to sleep!"

Brave men are generally calm, always courteous in speech and very modest in demeanor. It is the coward who is vituperative and egotistical. Brave men never deal in vulgar epithets. It is your coward who scolds, and blusters of his own prowess.

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment [illegible] the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines [illegible] without [illegible] vegetable [illegible] During [illegible] in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants [illegible] who may [illegible] permanent [illegible] Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health [illegible] human family. All [illegible] DR. L. J. CZAPKAY [illegible] perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but, alas! after a few weeks, and in several instances, months of their treatment, I found, to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture; and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength, and energy; and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who, after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear, and my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful exciting, [illegible] pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor, I felt as if inspired to a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view of saving the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty, after this test of my restoration, to [illegible] of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that a cure under his care is radical and permanent cure will be effected.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine, and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not fully got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks [illegible] since I called [illegible] your medicine, with my constitution, as I thought, [illegible] would be able to cure [illegible] to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, [illegible] and trembling at everything. Now [illegible] what I expected, [illegible] recovery from the symptoms [illegible] and blotches [illegible] and the entire [illegible] were principally [illegible] which [illegible] except not having [illegible] strength [illegible] can feel.

Enclosed I send you [illegible] your charge [illegible] If you think anybody will [illegible] newspapers, [illegible]
